

Malmi Bike Center

Sara Ferreira

Before the Bike Center

This building is located in Malmi, very near the train station. Was an abandoned building that will be salvaged with this idea of bike center and coffee place.

The connection between this center and the public transport is unavoidable and quite curious, because after the completion of this project, bicycles, buses and trains will be on the same network (not forgetting trams and metro). This is just an empty space with few walls, windows that are not at their best and a white-brown color that does not inspire the best conditions of the place.

Goals and Changes

The goal of this project was to be able to build a counter, either for information or for cafe shop.

Chose to develop a counter to the cafe and that was my main objective.

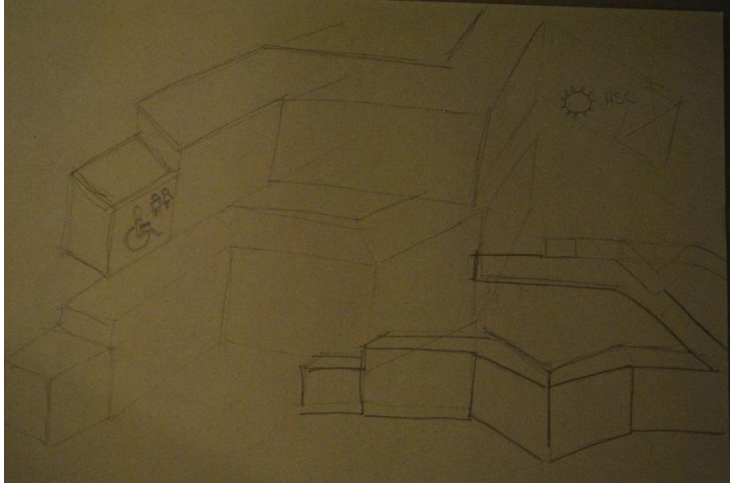

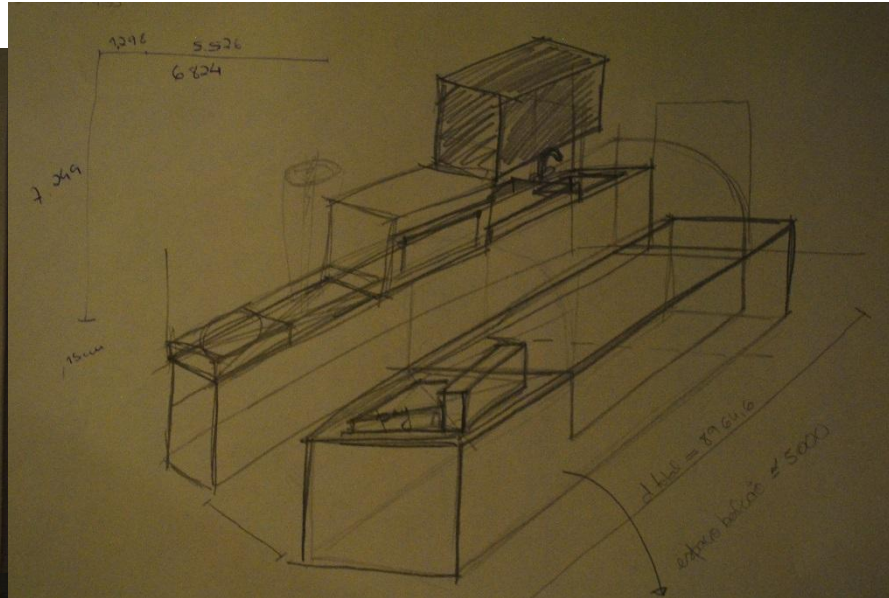

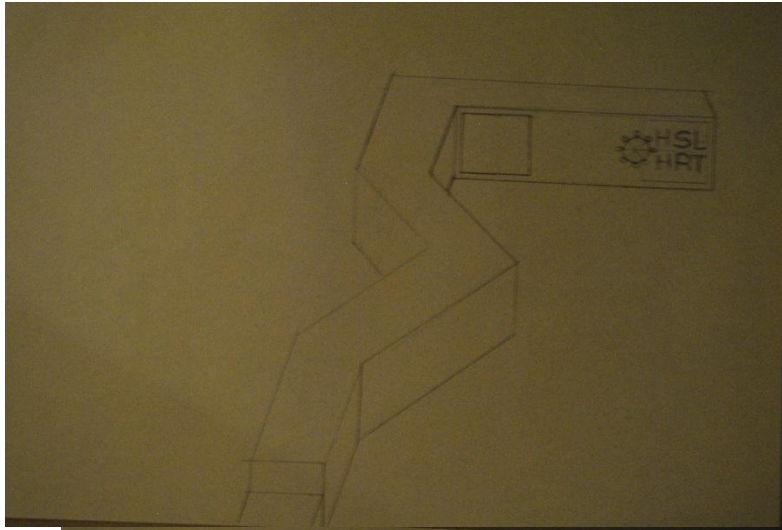

I had some difficulties in developing a consistent idea, but with much effort the perfect ideas emerged (the space of inspiration helped in some decisions) and of course all the complications were not going to stick around, but I think in the end achieve my goals that was the creation of a counter for a coffee with all the minimal features that I always look for a good space and cafe with a quirky design.

Design Problems, Inspiration and Sketches

My design has the main function to be practical and fast to use. The consumer will have at your disposal a wide choice of products and always a person to get behind the counter. The service is done by request and receive applications and products at the end of the counter we proceed to the payment. However there may be the option to the consumer to ask for something, pay and then turn to your table. The request has come to the hands of the same worker behind the counter.

Design Problems, Inspiration and Sketches

Successful Project

It was quite a project, hard sometimes but in the end function really well.

My space its made to be appreciate by everyone in every. However, I'm sure it will be a center with many cyclists, always keen to know the latest news as well as repair their bikes or even just take a cafe and relax.

