Motorcycles

1. Three-level-test
 - a. It's not discriminating because it's for all trailers
 - b. It's not hindering the The Italian law is directly hindering the trade in the area because it's forbidden to tow a trailer by motorcycle
 - c. No,
2. Yes, if Italy has collected data to prove that towing a trailer is more dangerous than normal motorcycling. The likelihood that something could happen improves because of instability.
3. Yes it is adequate, because of the environment of Italy, it could be dangerous to tow a trailer with a motorcycle
4. It is necessary because of the safety in Italian roads.

Confectionary

1. Three-level-test

No it's not a discrimination because they are not excluding any producer.
The law is not hindering the sale, it prohibits only non-packaged confectionary in machines.
2. This law protects people's health so it is justifiable
3. The restriction is adequate because the wrapped confectionaries have better hygiene and the consumers can see what ingredients are used in them.
4. The restriction is necessary because the law is the most efficient way to protect people's health.
